This afternoon Mr A. J. Roberton, an

English artist, exhibited a number of his pictures in the St. Andrew's Hall: The collection is a very interesting one and includes both oil-paintings and watercolours. Most of the oil paintings are representations of charming bits of English Green Capsule 10 1.00 | scenery. Mr Roberton has done a let of work in the South of England, and while many of the pictures bear the same titles they depict different scenes and different sensons. The more familiar scenes are Near Tambridge Wells, Near Torquay, On the Medway, and On the Dart, South Devon. The landscapes are well chosen and excellently painted. The artist manages to catch the varying effects of light upon the water, while his treatment Good Leeward Island ... $1.50 per Gal. of foliage, whether in the pristine freshness of spring, the full glow of summer, or the rich colours of autumn, is replete with true artistic feeling. Among the oil-paintings is a view on the reservoir at Singapore with which probably many of our readers are familiar. The water-colours are mostly smaller in size, but are artistically as valuable. Mr Roberton has taken full advantage of his travels in the East, and his collection comprises views from India, Penang, Singapore, Hongkong and Kowloon, as well as some from Trinidad, West Indies. These are bigus Landscapes which are sure to attrace considerable attention from visitors to the St. Andrews Hall. where the pictures will be again on exhibi-

We learn from Japanese papers that Mr E. B. Watson of Yokohama has filed a petition in bankruptey.

THE number of newspapers and other periodicals published with in the jurisdiction of of Hyogo Ken was 34 at the beginning of 1891, and another 41 were started during the year; 28 of them, however, did not succeed, and were given up, leaving 47 on the list at the end of the year.

THE saving bank deposits made by the Japanese people amounted to yen 24,293,590 in December last, including ven 1,415,500 deposited at the national banks, yen 3.089.890 at private banks, and yes 19,788,200 at post office savings banks.

THE report of the Japanese Imperial Railway Department for the year ended 31st March 1891 sets forth that the total length of lines constructed by the Government and open to traffic on the 31st of March last was 551 miles, representing a great trank line passing down and across Japan from a point on the north-west to a point on the southeast with branches eastward and westward to Yokosuka and Tsuruga. There is still of short break in the system at the Usui Pass. where great engineering difficulties have to be overcome. The sum expended on the reilways amounts to 32,745,901 year which makes the cost per mile 69,430 gen. The net pormal carnings of the whole system were 6.8 per cent, of the capital, but in consequence of damage caused by storms and floods nearly halfa-million you had to be apent in repairs, reducing the net profit to 5.3 of the capital. A more serious less will appear in the report for the year ending March 31st, 1892, in consequence of the destruction caused by the earthquake of October last.

JAPAN AND THE WORLD'S FAIR. -A Chicago telegram, dated February 12, ssys-Tegima, representative of the Mikado of Japan, appeared before the South Park commissioners, to day, and laid before them a remarkable offer on the part of the Government of Japan. He told the board that Japan wanted to put a stone building in Jackson park, lay out Jananese gardens all around it. fill the building with rare works of art, and then give everything to the city of Chicago. Tegima also said that the Government of Japan would vote an annual appropriation to keep up the buildings and gardens. That was all he said. President Donneroberger asked Tegima to put his offer on paper, and Tegima nodded assent. The proposed building and gardens will be part of that Government's display at the World's Fair. The sum of $60,000 will be spent for the building, which is to be a reproduction of one of the historical structures of the Flowery King-

Since the building of the Vladivostock end of the great Siberian Railway was commenced, that usually peaceful and orderly town has been disturbed by the presence of a large number of convicts sent thither to work upon the line. Two of their recent escapades will be fresh in the memory of our readers. One was the murder of a French officer; the other, the robbery of the treasury. When the three assassins were arrested and placed upon their trial it transpired that the motive of their crime has been nothing more profound than to obtain possession of their victim's clothes. awless habits of the convict labourers, the Anthorities had warned people against going outside the town after a cert in hour, but the French officer, forgetful of he carried, wandered out to a considerable saw him, and were seized by a desire to obtain his clothes so that they might disguise themselves in turns and visit the town. They paid for their ferocious fancy with their lives. The robbery was a more common-place-affair. Exactly how it was effected we do not know, but the thieves managed to carry off some three hundred thousand roubles. The money was in notes, however, and the numbers being known, no possibility of passing them presented itself. We now learn that the thieves have been apprehended, and that the whole amount has been recovered.-Japan Marl

This was another of their artful dodges-for when the boats from the men-of-war went in to bring out the junks, they found the pirates strongly entrenched in a position commanding the approach to their vessels. Hidden behind the rocks, they opened such a well-directed fire on the boats that some of them had to out back. Their retreat was greeted with shouts of triumph by the pirates who fancied they had outwitted and defeated their assailants. There is at the present time in Colombo, says the Times of (eylon, a visitor of the name of Edelmann, who is the guest in Kandy of Major Byrde, Mr Edelmann is by birth a Pole, but became a naturalised British subject as long ago as 1854. He is a cosmopolitum, speaking all the principal European languages, as well as Acabic. Ho has travelled on all the continents and says that all the geography he knows he learnt with his feet; while, as he can relate experiences in places so far separated as Paris and the Sandwich Isles, and Melbourne and Peru, it is evident that he has travelled much. In other ways he is a botanist, a chemist, a practical sugineer and a geologist, with no small astronomi cal knowledge-though this latter pursuit he has not followed for some years as he declares the science to be like gembling, all who attempt to dive into it becoming all absorbed in it as the gambler does in
